

PERMISSION TO DISTRIBUTE TRANSCRIPT DATA
THROUGH TALKBANK
Carnegie Mellon University

Carnegie Mellon University is participating in a data-sharing program known as TalkBank that was established through federal and foundation grants to Brian MacWhinney at Carnegie Mellon. For the program to function properly, contributors will be asked to and will give permission for their work to be made available to other researchers. With a full understanding of the aforementioned, I hereby give permission to TalkBank to make and circulate electronic copies of the language transcripts and media that I describe below. These copies may be distributed to scholars and other responsible parties. I warrant that this use of the data is in accord with Human Subjects review procedures at my institution and that participants have given informed consent to have their data available to researchers. I also warrant that there is no copyright restriction over the transcripts and media being circulated. Any further restrictions that I wish to place on the use of these data are listed under (2) below. I do not hold Brian MacWhinney or Carnegie Mellon responsible for the enforcement of these further restrictions and indemnify and render harmless both Brian MacWhinney and Carnegie Mellon University against any actions at law or in equity or in similar courts of any jurisdictions arising from violations of these restrictions.

1. General description of the data set, and IRB Approval # (if available):

The OCAE Corpus (Oral Chinese Academic Emails) is a collection of emails written and read by Chinese students from Heilongjiang International University to their professor disagreeing about their results. 20 students of Spanish as a Foreign Language have participated in this corpus which was recorded in Harbin, China. The ages of the participants are all between 20 and 23, and they are all in the third year of their academic studies. The duration of each tape lasts between 38 seconds and 1:36 minutes. The period of compilation of these audios was in during the academic year of 2018/2019.

2. Restrictions to be placed on the use of the data:
